From: Division of Human Resources

Subject: The University of Arizona Statement on Drug Free Schools and Campuses

The University of Arizona encourages you to save or bookmark the following message outlining the University's policies and approaches to preventing and treating the use of illicit drugs and abuse of alcohol.

Policy and Prohibition

The University prohibits the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of a controlled substance on its property or as part of any of its activities. Further, the University prohibits employees while on duty from consuming or being under the influence of alcoholic beverages or controlled substances not prescribed to them by a health care provider.

University employees are subject to drug and alcohol policies set forth in the Classified Staff Human Resources Policy Manual,<sup>1</sup> University Handbook for Appointed Personnel,<sup>2</sup> Arizona Board of Regents Code of Conduct,<sup>3</sup> the University of Arizona Alcohol Policy and Regulations,<sup>4</sup> and other applicable sources when adopted.

Sanctions

- Local, state, and federal laws make illegal use of drugs and alcohol serious crimes. Conviction can lead to imprisonment, fines, and assigned community service.
- To ensure fair and consistent treatment of all employees who are accused of illegal use of drugs or alcohol, the University will handle all cases that come to its attention within the guidelines of the Staff Rules of Conduct and Disciplinary Action;<sup>5</sup> ABOR Code of Conduct; and, where appropriate, local, state, and federal regulations.
- Employees who violate Arizona Board of Regents or University drug or alcohol policies are subject to University sanctions. Sanctions may include disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Health Risks

Alcohol and other drugs used in excess over time can produce illness, disability, and death. The health consequences of substance abuse may be immediate and unpredictable, such as cardiac arrest with cocaine use, or more subtle and long term, such as liver deterioration associated with the prolonged use of alcohol. Other concerns relating to substance abuse include the following:

- People who abuse alcohol and other drugs often have erratic lifestyles which interfere with sleep, nutrition, and exercise.

- Alcohol and substance abuse may lead to financial difficulties, domestic violence, deterioration of the family structure, motor vehicle accidents, and decline in job performance.
- Repeated abuse of alcohol and other drugs can lead to dependence.

Support Systems and Resources for Employees

For employees experiencing problems with alcohol and/or other drugs, the University provides resources to assist.

Life & Work Connections<sup>6</sup> Employee Assistance Service provides free information, resources, and, when appropriate, voluntary short-term counseling for drug and/or alcohol problems. Ongoing supervisor consultations regarding the signs and symptoms of alcohol/drug problems, ways to help troubled employees, and University policies are available through Human Resources Consulting<sup>7</sup>.

In addition, Arizona health plans cover rehabilitation services for chemical dependency. Employees can speak with a primary care physician or their health carrier's Member Services Department to learn more.

Statement on the Arizona Medical Marijuana Act

Arizona voters approved the Arizona Medical Marijuana Act in 2010. This act permits individuals to possess and use limited quantities of marijuana for some medical purposes. However, because of its obligations under the federal Controlled Substances Act, the University will continue to prohibit marijuana possession and use for any purpose on campus.

Employees who violate this policy will continue to be subject to disciplinary action.

University policy does not prohibit medical research projects involving marijuana conducted on campus as authorized by applicable University or federal approvals, which may include the United States Food and Drug Administration, The United States Drug Enforcement Administration, and the National Institutes on Drug Abuse.
